

George the Giraffe and Friends are going for Gold this May!

A Gold Star for George, the much awaited follow up to The Black and White Club, will be published May 28th 2015.

A Gold Star for George is the second book by Alice Hemming to feature the loveable character George the Giraffe. The Black and White Club, which introduced George to the world, was first published September 2013 and then reprinted September 2014.

The Black and White Club has been a very popular book. It was shortlisted for the Portsmouth Book Award, featured on Cbeebies Bedtime Stories read by Sir Derek Jacobi and it has been selected for the 2015 Record Breakers Summer Reading Challenge.

A Gold Star for George continues down the same themes of friendship and acceptance as seen in The Black and White Club. The Heavenly Hippos Wildlife Park, home of George, is holding a competition for gold stars and George really wants to win one. He helps all of his friends with their efforts in the competition, but will there be a star left for George?

The second book will be released May 28th 2015 and will be available in all good bookshops and online.

The George Giraffe and Friends series will continue and a third book will be published in 2016.
